Wagner College Theatre Advisory Board presents 'A Celebration of the Women of Broadway' to benefit BC/EFA

The Wagner College Theatre Advisory Board is proud to show its support and admiration for the women working and making strides on and off Broadway by presenting a passion-filled concert, "A Celebration of the Women of Broadway" on Sunday, April 2 at 7:30pm at Wagner College Theatre's Stage One.

Come join us and lend your support for this celebration and BC/EFA by enjoying an evening of wonderful Broadway music about women, composed by women, and performed by women (and men too)!

It's not just about honoring "the diva's," but showing how their work has changed and influenced theater makers, performers, and audience members for decades. The concert will celebrate women all across the industry from Sara Bareilles to Jeanine Tesori, Barbra Streisand, Audra McDonald and many more. Featuring classic female Broadway show tunes like "Before the Parade Passes By," "Back to Before," and "Everything's Coming Up Roses," this concert is sure to celebrate and astound.

The concert is directed by Nicholas Buchholz, with music direction by Michael Pinto. Produced by Rozzie Heeger and the Wagner College Theatre Advisory Board.

General Admission tickets are $7 and students $5; payable at the door.
